The first class at the Field Artillery Officer Candidate School reported to Fort Sill on July 10, 1941 and was billeted in tents. OCS offered a 12-week course to warrant officers and enlisted men desiring to become second lieutenants in the Army of the United States.

Captain Carl H. Jark was assigned as the school's first commandant. The first class had 125 entering and 79 graduated on October 1, 1941.

The Field Artillery Officer Candidate School closed, when class number 179 graduated on December 12, 1946, after commissioning 26,209 second lieutenants.

The graduation of Class 179 marked the closing of the Field Artillery OCS at Fort Sill until it's reopening in 1951.
Not Verified Graduates
1941-1945

The official document source used to create the 1940’s rosters was a bound set of orders stored in the Morris Swett Library at Fort Sill’s Snow Hall. Those documents were provided on 3 July 1963 to the Commandant of the U.S. Army Artillery and Missile OCS by the General Services Administration Federal Records Center.

On 20 May 1963, the OCS Commandant requested the list of graduates from the United States Army Records Center to conduct a study in connection with the possible establishment of an “OCS Hall of Fame”. On 31 May 1963 the OCS Brigade was informed that the records were not at the Army Records Center and the request was forwarded to the Federal Records Center.

The following 253 individuals were included on the class roster lists found in Durham Hall in 2004. Those lists had evolved over a 40 year period and were not consistent with the official documents provided by the Federal Records Center. The names are therefore listed as “Not Verified”, until they can be documented as actual graduates or confirmed as non-graduates.
